Construction Update | May 2017

Things are moving along with the construction of the Living Gems Caboolture Clubhouse precinct. The following update is provided for your information:

Under Slab Plumbing and Electrical Complete

Over half footings have been dug out and poured, remainder should be completed and block work commenced by end of month (weather permitting).

Pool excavation is complete and steel work in progress.

For your safety, please DO NOT enter the construction Zone at any time.

Note: The front entry & exit gates will remain open during the day whilst the final road sections are completed over the next week or so. Once work is complete, all trades will be required to enter through the Construction entry at the eastern end of the site.

Further updates to follow.
